2 General information about personal data processing

2.1 Scope

In principle, we process personal data only to the extent necessary to provide a functioning website, our products and services. This is done in compliance with data protection regulations and only if a legal requirement allows us to do so or if you have given your consent.

2.2 Legal basis

Insofar as we obtain the consent of the data subject for processing of personal data, Art. 6 (1) (a) of the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) serves as the legal basis.

The processing of personal data necessary for the performance of a contract to which the data subject is a party serves as the legal basis for Article 6 (1) (b) of the GDPR. This also applies to processing operations required to carry out pre-contractual actions.

Insofar as the processing of personal data is necessary to fulfill a legal obligation that our company is subject to, Art. 6 (1) (c) GDPR serves as the legal basis.

In the event that vital interests of the data subject or any other natural person require the processing of personal data, Article 6 (1) (d) of the GDPR serves as the legal basis.

If processing is necessary to safeguard the legitimate interests of our company or a third party and if the interests, fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject do not outweigh the former interest, then Article 6 (1) (f) GDPR serves as the legal basis for the processing.

2.3 Data deletion and storing duration

The personal data of the data subject will be deleted or blocked as soon as the purpose of the storage is obsolete. In addition, such storage may be provided for by the European or national legislator in EU regulations, laws or other regulations to which the responsible is subject. Blocking or deletion of the data also takes place when a storage period prescribed by the standards mentioned expires, unless there is a need for further storage of the data for conclusion of a contract or fulfillment of the contract.

3 Personal data processing

3.1 Visiting our Web site www.mirrorlake.eu

Each time our website is accessed, the system of our Internet service provider automatically collects data and information from the computer system of the calling computer, which can be stored in log files. Log information includes the IP address of the device used to access the website or service, the type of browser you access, the website you have previously visited, your system configuration, and the date and time information. IP addresses are stored only to the extent necessary to provide the services. Otherwise, the IP addresses are deleted or anonymized.

Our internet service provider is STRATO AG. Their privacy policy can be viewed here: <https://www.strato.de/datenschutz/>

The legal basis for the temporary storage of data and log files is Article 6 (1) (f) GDPR.

The temporary storage of the IP address by the system is necessary to allow delivery of the website to the computer of the user. To do this, the user's IP address must be kept for the duration of the session. In addition, users' IP addresses for detecting and blocking attacks in log files are stored for a maximum of seven days

The data will be deleted as soon as it is no longer necessary for the purpose of its collection. In the case of collecting the data for providing the website, this is the case when the respective session is completed.

The collection of data for the provision of the website and the storage of the data in log files is essential for the operation of the website. There is consequently no contradiction possible.

3.2 E-Mail contact

It is possible to contact us via the E-Mail address provided. In this case, personally identifiable information (PII) with the email of the user are stored. In this context, there is no transfer of data to third parties. The data are used solely for the processing of the conversation.

Legal basis for the processing of the data transferred in the course of sending e-mail is Article 6 (1) (f) GDPR. The mail contact aimed at the conclusion of a contract, additional legal basis for the processing is Article 6 (1) (b) GDPR.

The of personal data processing is done only to process you contact request.

The data will be deleted when they are no longer necessary for the achievement of the purpose of their collection.

The user has the possibility to withdraw their consent for the processing of personal data at any time. For the revocation, a short email to piotrowski@mirrorlake.eu with the request to delete the personal data ranges including a the contradiction of the storage is sufficient.
